Over the Top With Victory Bonds

The Crows Nest Pass is well up on the honor roll in the Victory Loan campaign, thanks to an efficient organization.

Coleman, with an allotment of $81,000, has practically doubled that amount and will improve her standing by Saturday night.

Following is a summary of the subscribers on national lines outside the handsome donations of the coal companies:

British	67,800
Czecho Slovaks	8,400
Belgian	3,350
Italian	1,500
Polish	1,000
Eisen	600
Russian	100
Chinese	100
McGillivray Coal Co.	50,000
International Coal Co.	24,000

The local committee is anticipating a large number of small subscribers will be added before the curtain falls on Saturday night.

Harry Ferby Dies Of Heart Failure.

The sudden death of Harry Ferby on Thursday came as a shock to his friends. The deceased had recovered from an attack of influenza sufficiently to get up and walk around the house the day of his death, heart failure being the immediate cause of his death. He leaves a wife and many friends to mourn his loss.

Fell From Load of Hay.

Joe Loyd is in the Miners' Hospital with a serious fracture of the thigh, as the result of a fall from a load of hay on Thursday. He was brought in from the scene of the accident by T. W. Davies' ambulance.

Influenza Epidemic Abating in Coleman.

The influenza seems to have passed its height in Coleman and it is generally inferred that conditions will now improve rapidly. Taken on the whole the epidemic has taken light toll here as compared to other points, the prompt and effective action of the health officials being largely responsible.

Thanksgiving Service Postponed

A proclamation has been issued postponing the thanksgiving service scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 17th, owing to the prevailing epidemic.

While the prevailing epidemic is decreasing at many points in the province, it would appear that taking the province as a whole it is on the increase. The northern part of the province is now being overrun with the plague.

What Excuse will you give the Returned Soldier for not not having bought a Victory Bond?

Forty eight deaths have occurred from influenza at Rossland.

Townpeople have reason to feel grateful for the fact that the Victory Loan was in progress during the past two weeks. The Committee and canvassers helped nobly in keeping the town alive during the influenza epidemic.

Extradition of Former Emperor William from Holland, and his trial in England on the charge of murder for which he has been indicted there, was urged here by James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany in an impromptu address before a theatre audience.

NOTICE

Military Service Act, 1917.

EMPLOYMENT OF MEN IN DEFAULT UNDER THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT.

The following Regulations, recently approved by the Governor General in Council, impose strict obligations upon every employer TO ASSURE HIMSELF THAT EACH OF HIS EMPLOYEES OF MILITARY AGE AND DESCRIPTION IS IN POSSESSION OF DOCUMENTS PROVING THAT HE IS NOT IN ANY WAY IN DEFAULT UNDER THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT.

An employer who is charged with having a defaulter in his employ must be able to prove THAT THE MILITARY SERVICE PAPERS ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OR MILITARY AUTHORITIES TO THE EMPLOYEE IN QUESTION WERE PRODUCED FOR HIS INSPECTION at the time when the employee was taken into his employment, and that it was reasonably established to his satisfaction that the man was not in default under the Military Service Act. It should be clearly understood that the Canadian Registration Certificates given on June 22, 1918, at the time of general registration, in no way define the status of a man under the Military Service Act.

REGULATIONS.

"106. Every person who employs or retains in his service any man who has deserted or is absent without leave from the Canadian Expeditionary Force, or who is in default in the performance of any obligation or requirement for reporting or for military service, imposed upon him by the Act or Regulations, or any proclamation thereunder, shall be guilty of an offence punishable on summary conviction by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by a penalty of not less than One Hundred Dollars, and of not more than Five Hundred Dollars, or by both such imprisonment and fine, unless such person prove that he made due inquiry and that THE MILITARY SERVICE PAPERS ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OR THE MILITARY AUTHORITIES TO THE MAN SO EMPLOYED OR RETAINED IN HIS SERVICE WERE PRODUCED FOR HIS INSPECTION, and that it was reasonably established to his satisfaction by such inquiry and papers that the man was not a deserter or absent from the force without leave, or in default in respect of any of the obligations or requirements aforesaid."

"106A. Every person who HARBOURS OR CONCEALS OR IN ANY WAY ASSISTS ANY MAN WHO IS A DESERTER OR ABSENT WITHOUT LEAVE FROM THE CANADIAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, or who is in default in the performance of any obligation or requirement for reporting or for military service imposed upon him by the Act or Regulations, or any proclamation thereunder, shall be guilty of an offence punishable upon summary conviction by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by a penalty of not less than One Hundred Dollars and of not more than Five Hundred Dollars, or by both such imprisonment and fine, unless such person prove that he was not aware and had no reasonable ground to suspect that the man so harboured, concealed, or assisted was a deserter or absent from the forces without leave or in default in respect of any of the obligations or requirements aforesaid."

Editorial Comment

Reconstruction.

The cessation of hostilities on Monday has brought the allied nations face to face with the big after-the-war problem, viz: reconstruction.

The energies which have been devoted to the prosecution of the war during the past four years must now be diverted as quickly as possible to peace activities, and the very thoroughness of the war effort will add to the difficulties of effecting this change without confusion.

BUCKING THE KAISER

In the good old western style.

Wise Ones Are Buying Victory Bonds

The people of southern Alberta know how to make good use of an opportunity when it is put before them. This is proven by the enormous number of subscriptions that are being made to the Victory Loan, and this in spite of the fact that the organizations in many places have been very severely handicapped by the war, not only amongst the committees in charge of the work but in the districts which they cover.

To the average person the idea of buying a Victory Bond bearing 5 1/2 per cent interest and exempt from income tax is not a favor. It is a business proposition, with the advantage of being in favor of the buyer and it will be because it is good business, and not because they are doing favors to any one—except themselves—that our people are buying to their capacity. And the nearer we are to peace the better and the more attractive the proposition.

The canvassers who are bringing in the best results are those who make the campaign slogan "invest in the good old western style."

Everything points to southern Alberta totals reaching the ultimate objective of eight and a half millions by the time the campaign closes on November 16, for before the campaign was half way through the amounts subscribed had already gone over six million dollars. It is inconceivable that some people will be apt to miss the chance of getting in their subscriptions owing to illness in their families but canvassers are taking the best possible care they can to give every day a chance until Thursday of this week the following places have won faces: Bassano, flag and crown; Crossfield, flag and crown; Jenner, flag and crown; Claresholm, flag and crown; Lethbridge, flag and crown; Okotoks, flag and crown; Bow Island, flag; Hanna, flag; Calgary, flag and one crown; Blackie, flag; Blairmore, flag and crown; Redcliff, flag and crown; Coleman, flag and three crowns; Lethbridge, flag and two crowns; Commerce, flag; Manton, flag; Brant, flag and three crowns; High River, flag; Castor, flag; Halkirk, flag and crown; Coalville, Carmanor, Manton.

Lethbridge had the proud distinction of being the first city to overtop its high objective and to win at honor flag and three crowns. Very shortly after that news came in that Crow's Nest Pass also passed their high objective. Coleman also gained a flag and three crowns, and Blairmore a flag and one crown.

"A tiny little British Tommy, he was a very tiny chap, brought in a big, burly Prussian officer and, as they stood together, it was interesting to see the lofty way in which this Prussian officer looked down upon the English Tommy. He looked down upon him from every point of view—nationally, physically, socially, and intellectually, and every other way, until you wondered how there was anything left of that little Tommy." He said to him at last, very disdainfully: "You fight for money. Just fancy, you bankers, fancy a man telling a British Tommy that he fights for money—and you know how much the poor fellow gets? Twenty-five cents a day; he fights and dies for 25 cents a day—when he gets it and there are all sorts of deductions for insurance, for fines (Tommy has a genius for fines), for all sorts of things, and if you look at the pitance that remains, you know it is positively cruel to tell Tommy Atkins that he fights for money. (Laughter.) Oh no, oh no, Tommy Atkins fights for something else that is wonderfully grander than money. Tommy Atkins does not fight for money. Tommy was equal to the occasion. He looked at the Prussian officer and he asked him what he fought for. 'I fight for honor,' said the Prussian, and Tommy said: 'I am not fighting for what we haven't got.'"

If the spirit of self-sacrifice developed by the war is retained in attacking the problems of peace, readjustment should be accomplished with a minimum of trouble and confusion, but if reconstruction involves clashes between factions considering their own interests before the welfare of the country at large, then the diversion of effort towards peace problems will be an extremely difficult matter and will be accompanied by industrial disturbances and financial loss.

For four years the government has been the purchaser of the great bulk of the produce of the country, and commodities of every description have risen in value to a war time standard, which cannot be maintained in peace times.

Huge investments in munition plants and other industries necessary to the supplying of an army in Europe will become unprofitable, and thousands of employees must find other work. Even in land heavy investments have been made at prices inflated by the high price of farm produce which will embarrass the purchasers under the changed conditions which must follow.

Undoubtedly the government of the country during the period of reconstruction will have more difficult problems to solve than were met in conducting our share of the war, with a practical certainty that more opposition will develop than has been manifested during the progress of the war. The statesmen who assist in the solution of the after-the-war situation will deserve all the consideration possible at the country's hands.

Germany Must Pay.

The news of a revolution in Germany was a matter of suspicion from its inception, and is still largely regarded as an attempt to avoid the burden of recompense for wrongs done by the German armies.

We have been so industriously after the Kaiser and the junkers that at times the part of the German people in the devastation has been overlooked. Winning, the Germans were all Imperialists. Losing, the shifting of the reigns of government to the Socialists, should not be permitted to stand in the way of the collection of damages in full.

Work Yet on Victory Loan.

Residents of Coleman have every reason to feel proud of the results achieved in the Victory Loan campaign, the allotment having been doubled.

In one respect, however, there is yet an objective to be attained and that is in the number of subscribers.

Every able-bodied man should purchase at least a $50 bond before the sun goes down on Saturday night, and put Coleman over the top in every particular.

Other people have done the fighting for you, its up to you to buy Victory Bonds.

Buy Victory Bonds and assure prosperity in Canada during 1919. Money talks in this instance.

No savings account is as good as a Victory Bond. It bears 5 1/2 per cent interest and can be turned into cash at any time. Buy Victory Bonds.

Dr. Roux, director of the Pasteur Institute and a world authority on microbes, declares that disinfection of public places is of no avail in checking the disease. "Influenza is spread by direct contact," he said. "Place 20 perfectly healthy persons in a clean room with one victim of the disease, and some of the 20 would get it. I advise persons who sense they are affected to keep to their rooms so as to prevent the spread of the microbes. In that way many cases can be nipped. It is a question only of popular discipline. Only by isolating the victims can the spread of the disease be checked."

A bona fide farmer who has grown wheat himself may have 200 pounds of wheat flour in his possession, or enough for ordinary household requirements of 200 days, and so may any consumer who lives at a greater distance than five miles from his regular-licensed miller or dealer. All others are now limited to 100 pounds or 60 days' supply at any one time, except those householders out off from civilization by the close of navigation. These people may also have the limit of 200 days ordinary supply of flour and of sugar likewise.

Chatham, Ontario had about 500 acres in gardens this year; on which it is estimated $25,000 worth of produce was grown. Preparations have already been made for an increased acreage next year. Even the river banks and the railway right-of-way are being cultivated.

Last year there were 5,285,000 war gardens in the United States. It is said that real estate men are looking forward to a boom in garden lands.

The Anti-Loafing Law has been amended so as to provide for arrest without warrant by any peace officer of any person he believes to be violating the law.

Hamilton, Ont., lawyers have decided to raise their fees twenty per cent, according to a news item. Probably other lawyers will follow suit. There isn't the most remote idea in anyone's mind but that lawyers have always been underpaid.

An American general claims it will take two years to demobilize their army, and claims that this statement reflects the opinion of the general staff. It is said it will take the army a year to remove the barb wire the Germans have stretched across France.

The mask order has met with considerable opposition everywhere, physicians frequently being responsible for the statement that they are unsanitary, otherwise that they do harm instead of good. However, wearing them in public is law here and good or bad the law should be respected.

Peace talk emphasizes the world shortage of cattle, sheep and hogs—in fact all live stock. Canada will be called upon to help restore the flocks and herds of Europe, and the after-war demand will be greater than the war demand, in the view of those conditions.

Foch said to the Huns: "Those are the killed terms. Take them or leave them. But they are good only for 72 hours." We can imagine that Foch was remembering at the time the fall of Metz some 48 years ago. Foch was in Metz at the time and knows what the heel of Germany as a conqueror is like.—Lethbridge Herald.

All over Canada people are eating fish in greater quantities than ever known in this country before, the average increase being estimated at 100 per cent. National Fish Day, October 31st, was well observed throughout Canada. The increased demand will increase the supply, for there are plenty of fish in Canadian waters, if people will only ask their dealers to order them.

Almost the first action of the U. S. war department after announcement of the signing of the armistice with Germany was cancellation of all army draft calls under which more than 300,000 men had been ordered to entrain for camps before Nov. 30. The telegrams reached most of the boards in time, but a few men are known to have started for camp.

Abandonment of censorship on news, including withdrawal of the volunteer censorship under which American newspapers have been operating since the United States entered, will be recommended to President Wilson by George Creel, chairman of the committee of public information. Work of the foreign division will be continued for a time at least.

W. T. Cox, state forester for Minnesota, blames parsimonious appropriations by the legislature for the recent fires.

Stringent regulations on the use of sugar have been imposed on hotels, restaurants, boarding houses and all confectioners and manufacturers. They are doing their part now to save sugar. People in the homes cannot be controlled in the same way, but they are limited quite as strictly by law not to use more than 2 pounds of sugar until further notice. Relief may come when the new Cuban crop is on the market in February. People who have to take their meals in restaurants are developing a new taste, and have found the real flavor of tea and coffee. Try it in the home.—Canada Food Board.

British Scientific Research.

Becoming economically independent of Germany, in the future, and to a lesser degree of other nations, is an incentive which has appealed to the best brains among the Allies. What has been accomplished by British scientists so far promises much for the future. Rare metals have been experimented with for use in both war and peace; chemicals which have become available make a long list. There is a new stainless steel, among other things, and the discoveries in glass-making places optical work well beyond German monopoly. Dyes are also out of Germany's control. Among the new materials which have been evolved is one made of resin, will soon appear in paragon handles, frames of lorgnettes, cigarette holders and numberless dainty accessories. It comes in finest, clearest amber colour as well as in green and brown.

Herb growing holds a noticeable place in this research work and hygienic appliances for the caring of milk and the making of cheese show the importance which these will have in the future. Much of this work lies easily within women's sphere. Already she has shown herself to be an expert in optical work and nothing more delightful can be imagined for the woman gardener than herb growing. Everything pertaining to dairy work is legitimately in women's realm and if many of the flagrant shortcomings and omissions existing to-day are carried over into the new world of to-morrow it will be due quite as much to women's neglect of her duty as to man's. Indeed the day is already passed when women can rightly complain of many things which need improvement. The world of to-morrow will be a place where men and women will work together and where praise and blame will be shared equally.

A Message to the Young Men of Canada

Canada needs Trained Men and Women! Whatever be the task confronting the nation, in war or peace, Canada is always in peril of failure so long as the young people of the country are economically unfitted for their tasks.

Never were opportunities so great. Thousands of good-paying positions are waiting in every field of endeavor for men and women trained to fill them—in offices, stores, shops, factories, mines, railroads, on the farms—in all lines of technical, commercial, and agricultural work.

For over 26 years the International Correspondence Schools have been training Canadians. Thousands have been helped to better careers through the I. C. S. plan. 6500 are getting ready right now.

Many of the largest employers in the country are interested in the work of the I. C. S. in Canada, and, at their request, are being informed regularly concerning the progress of I. C. S. students among their employees.

You can win success with the aid of the I. C. S.

J. F. Parker, of Winnipeg, climbed from a $40 a month job to a $6,000 a year income as a Contractor. Wm. T. Griffiths advanced from carpenter to Superintendent of Construction for Lyall and Sons, Ottawa.

Epidemic of Influenza

Instructions Regarding the Care of Sick Persons.

Since Thousands of People are Nursing Influenza Patients in the Province the Following Instructions Will Be of Value:

1. Fresh air is the most essential requisite to the comfort and well being of patients, no matter how ill.
2. Rest in bed for three days after fever has gone is urged to prevent complications.
3. Pneumonia cases should not be kept in the same room with uncomplicated influenza cases.
4. Nourishing food at regular intervals.
5. Plenty of water or lemonade.
6. General unworried service, avoid chattering, nagging or questioning anticipate wants of sickest patients, convalescents usually ask for what they want.

Keep the patients in isolated room in separate beds. Keep patient in bed all of the time. (This means patient must not get up to go to the bathroom). Two or three pillows arranged step fashion the lowest well under the shoulders will make breathing easier. Keep the arms and shoulders well covered. Ventilate the room freely. At the outset, headaches and backaches are frequent. Cloths (moist but not dripping) to the head, changed frequently give some relief. Avoid anything that might cause the slightest chill. Care of mouth: a mouth wash every few hours and cold cream to the lips help to keep the mouth in a normal condition; if patient is extremely weak, swab the teeth carefully with moistened cotton applications three times daily.

Coughing patients should keep mouth covered when coughing, paper napkins or three thicknesses of toilet paper used only once, are safe and better than rags or handkerchiefs. Keep a small paper bag pinned to bedside, within easy reach of patient's hand, to receive the used napkins. Change bag at least twice daily, or whenever it becomes half full.

The invisible germ from the mouth and nose during coughing and sneezing is as dangerous as visible expectoration. Convalescent patients can be masked, weak patients are annoyed by them.

Food—For the unhappy, feverish patients, liquid diet, hot or cold, as preferred, milk, lemonade, weak tea and coffee, broth.

For convalescent patients not feverish, soft diet, ground cooked cereals, milk, jellies, soft boiled eggs, etc.

Food may be kept in a thermos bottle. Patients should drink some water when aw, ke.

PRECAUTIONS

Precautions—All mouth washes bath water, extra, and unclean linen food should be thrown into the toilet by the attendant.

All bags, napkins, scraps of unclean food, mouth swab, etc., should be wrapped in clean newspaper before being carried to the kitchen to be destroyed by burning.

All linen, sheets, masks, towels, etc., should be submerged in a large kettle of cold water in the sick room, or put in a pillowcase or laundry bag. This can be safely carried to the kitchen stove and when contents have been boiled five minutes anyone may finish caring for the linen. When attendant cannot s-o-p to wash her own hands, door knobs, faucets, etc., should be protected by wraps of newspaper which may be destroyed after each use. Attendants must be constantly masked, must wear big all-over aprons in sick room, changing it to a different one always before entering any other part of the house. Attendant must keep facilities for washing her own hands, soap, nail-brush and paper towels in clean place and never touch the patient or patients utensils without afterward cleaning her own hands thoroughly. Running water is better and safer than a basin of weak disinfectant kept for the hands alone.

Everything used in the patient's room should be kept separately from the supplies for the rest of the household. This means dishes, bed linen, bath wrappers, towels, face cloths, rocking chair, etc.

Families can help visiting nurses and aide by having hot water towels, and newspaper ready when nurses are expected.

Soldiers' Sore Feet.

This is one of the many ailments for which Zambuk is made at the front. It soothes tired, aching feet, blisters and cures "french feet." Regular applications of this balm will keep the feet in perfect condition.

File Frank Gaskin, of the 4th Canadian Infantry, writing from France, says: "After heavy marching, I had nothing so good as Zambuk for sore and tired feet."

Your soldier friends need Zambuk also for cuts, burns, blisters, wire scratches, and sores of all kinds. Be sure to put some in your next parcel. All dealers or Zambuk Co., Toronto. Etc. box, 3 for $1.25.

Fly Pests

Many Seem to Be Perfectly Harmless to Animals

Among the tall timbers of the Antipodes nearly every horse is decorated with a red rag hung from his chin whippers to stall off "hot flies," but it is about as effective as a bishop's scapular cloak. There are other "hot flies" in Australia not nearly so well known. The kangaroo has one, and in this case the grub lodges in the chest. This particular grub was first discovered by Broughton of Moroma station, on Walgett (N. S. W.) way, a couple of years ago, the full sized maggots being found in the windpipes, apparently having entered the nostrils to the host. Local entomologists are now investigating the habits of this insect. Another grub found in the chest had caused the animal to die exclusively to the evil-smelling hum-bumped bees. It is an importation from Arabia and does not noticeable damage.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

German women not infrequently write to their husbands at the front urging them to try to deal for them what they are unable to buy at home. "Won't there be chances of picking up things during the advance?" writes one lady to her husband. "I should so like to have enough stuff to make a costume and cloak. Boots, too—of leather—would be welcome. You know that anything will come in useful, because here everything is getting scarcer and scarcer."

SELF DEFENSE

DEFEAT BACKACHE AND KIDNEY TROUBLE WITH ANURIC.

Many people in Canada have suffered from rheumatism and kidney trouble and have found Anuric to be the most successful remedy to overcome those painful and dangerous ailments.

The lucky people are those who have heeded Nature's warning signal in time to correct their habits with that new discovery of Dr. Fierro's called "Anuric." You should promptly heed those warnings, some of which are dizziness, backache, irregularity of the urine or the painful twinges of rheumatism, sciatica or lumbago. To delay may make possible the dangerous forms of kidney disease, such as diabetes or stone in the bladder.

To overcome those distressing conditions you should take plenty of exercise in the open air, avoid a heavy meat diet, drink freely of water and at each meal take Dr. Fierro's Anuric Tablets (double strength). You will, in a short time, find that you are one of the men indomitable of Anuric, as are many of your neighbors.

Send Dr. V. M. Fierro, Buffalo, N. Y., or Bridgeport, Ont., 10c for trial pkg. St. Catharines, Ont.—For several years I suffered with gravel and with uric acid, causing rheumatoid arthritis. Nothing ever helped me until I commenced to take "Anuric," and the first thing I noticed was that the gravel was passing. It has now disappeared and I have never made a reappearance. My general health has improved and I have a better nerve condition and my condition is better, too. I used to have such dizzy spells at times I thought I would faint, but these no longer trouble me. I no longer regret that I did not know of Anuric before."

Have Done Their Utmost

The Pure and Holy Sacrifice of the Soldier

In September, 1917, I was at the front near Ypres. It was the day before the great push, and the roads at the front were choked with the thousands of thousands of men. They were not talking or singing or whistling. I heard no band except one that was playing an old hymn of the church. All around were the silent and determined men. About them was turmoil of that incredible traffic which precedes the big push, the rumble and roar of motor lorries, of endless streams of wagons, the thud of great guns and the terrific sound of bursting shells. But the human silence was almost unbroken, in that long line of marching men. By the thousands they passed men with faces rigid and white, conscious of what was before them. They were constantly passing in the Garden of Gethsemane. They did not want to die; life was sweet. I saw a young man of twenty years, his heart was saying: "If it is possible, let this cup pass from me."

And yet if they had been given their choice, I do not believe a single boy would have turned his back on that inferno. Home letters had been written so far as they could, they had put their houses in order. They knew they must not come back, yet they went up like kings. Across the picture burned into my memory there is written literally in letters of blood the word sacrifice. Sacrifice more pure and holy than our modern life has ever dreamed of. A sacrifice which knows no personal return, and is not made alone through love of country, but through devotion to the most sacred and righteous things of life. Heroism is no longer the exceptional thing among men. It is the everyday life of all. However, it is not a question of how much, but have I my utmost? From "Pictures Burned Into My Memory," by Charles W. Whitehair.

Archangel

Has Been Knit Up With English For Centuries

The port of Archangel where the allies are now gathering, with a view to securing the railway to Petrograd, across the ice of the Arctic, and inland along the Baltic coast, has in a most curious way, been knit up for centuries with the English. The Norsemen, who came here in the twilight of Arctic history, to trade with the nomad tribes, the Samoyeds, the Zyryans, the Lapys, and the Finns, found perhaps their first chronicler in possibly the greatest of all Englishmen, Alfred, King of Wessex. It was he, in his great Saxon Chronicle, told the story of Othere and his Norse trader, who used the sea route to the east, a half century after, to the very ground where the English, trodden came the Englishman, Richard Chancellor, one of the pioneers of the Muscovite company, and the practical founder of the city. Half a century later, on the lower reaches of the Dvina, an English factory was built, and the English presence there, which almost immediately afterwards the Tsar Boris declared Archangel a free port. In those days it was the principal port of the empire, and it may be with the infant strapping down a crowded street on his bicycle.

The drawback to the child being carried on the back is that its face may be exposed to the rays of the sun and to the cold of the wind, and cause of eye and head trouble. Also the loose hair from the mother's or father's head may cause irritation of the child's eyes, nose and mouth. The tender limbs, too, are held too long in a straddling position and too tightly. An effort is made nowadays to protect the eyes by crowning the little baby-heads with a soft cap of hair. There is in the Far East nothing more comical in wearing apparel than these new style baby hats.

Japanese Love of Babies

Are Often Carried About Streets by Fathers

Japanese "adoration of babies" is universal. Some people will have it that as husband and wife do not marry for love, their love of children is the natural outlet for unexpressed affections. A Japanese man always speaks of "my baby," and it is one of the most common words in Japan to see a father carrying his young baby, sometimes cuddling it in his arms, or it may be with the infant strapped firmly on his back, scorching down a crowded street on his bicycle.

The Alhambra, most beautiful of all the palaces of Spain, was built by a Moorish king in about 1250, but has been enlarged by several successors of this ruler. It is a marvel of lovely arches and mosaics, halls and corridors, of wood and stone. The Court of the Lions is the most known and admired. The Hall of the Ambassadors is, supposedly, the square apartment in which Columbus presented his project to Ferdinand and Isabella.

Canadian Battle Cry

Significant of Spirit

Destruction of Hospital Ship Is Not Forgotten

The correspondent of the Morning Post at the British headquarters, says that the Canadians poured through the broken British line, their grim battle cry which had taken them eastwards across the piffling German lines, was heard again. The Germans wondered what it meant. The plans for Canada's share in the offensive were known as the "L.C." scheme. Less than half a dozen knew what the letters meant, but when the Canadians had been secretly moved to the Somme country, according to the "L.C." scheme on the night before the attack the men were told that the letters stood for "Landoverly Castle." The troops had not forgotten the destruction of their hospital ship by a U-boat and with "Landoverly Castle" as their battle cry they fought as never before.

NERVOUS TROUBLE

The nerve system is the governing system of the whole body, and it is the heart, lungs, digestion and brain; so it is not surprising that nervous disturbances should cause acute distress. The first stages of nervous debility are noted by irritability and restlessness, in which the victims are unable to get on with their lives. The matter requires immediate attention, for nothing but suitable treatment will prevent a complete breakdown of the victim. Nervous disorders may be cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood, that this medicine has cured so many nervous disorders after all other treatment had failed. The nerves thrive on the new blood made by these pills; the appetite improves, digestion is better, sleeplessness no longer troubles the former nerve shatterers, and the general condition takes on a cheerful aspect. Every sufferer from nerve troubles, no matter how slight, should lose no time in giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, thus regaining their old-time health and comfort.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Improving on German Methods

Mustard Gas Made By Americans Is A Fluid

Mustard gas that is so much talked of is not a gas but a fluid. One authority estimates that the Huns used it in the last year in an offensive lasting less than three days. Some time ago it was stated by official that the American brand of mustard gas would be one-fourth more toxic than the kind used by Germany. This may or may not be true, but it is a fact that the Americans in July to the Huns facing the Americans northwest of Chateau-Thierry, states by the Huns that the Americans produced 500 casualties. The order continues: "Symptoms of sickness make us suppose that the enemy is using a new gas that resembles our Yellow Cross. This gas appears to have more harmful effects than the one we have used up to the present time. Gas poisoning still occurred among those who took off their masks after wearing them for 12 hours. We evidently have to deal with a new gas—Saturday Evening Post.

"Will anyone ask me a question related to the subject of life and death?" asked the thought reader.

"Well, mine refers to murder." "I see blood," exclaimed the thought reader tragically. "You wish to know who did the deed?"

"Yes, please."

"It was a relative."

"That's quite right. Father's or mother's side?" ventured the inquirer.

"Wonderful. That, too, is correct. But what was the object?"

"How marvellous! Go on."

PAIN? NOT A BIT! LIFT YOUR CORNS OR CALLUSES OFF

No humbug! Apply few drops then just lift them away with fingers.

This new drug is an ether compound discovered by a Cincinnati chemist. It is called freezone, and can now be obtained in small bottles at here shown at very little cost from any drug store. Apply a drop or two directly upon a tender corn or callus and in a few minutes the corn or callus will lift off, root and all, with the fingers.

Not a twinge of pain, soreness or irritation, not even the slightest smarting, either when applying freezone or afterwards.

This drug doesn't eat up the corn or callus, but shrivels them so they loosen and come right off. It is as simple as works like a charm.

For a few cents you can get corn balm, but it is a painful callosities on bottom of your feet. It never disappoints and never bites. It is as simple as works like a charm.

Finding Black Walnut

Government Needs 60 Million Feet Each Year

"Of all our native woods, only black walnut will do for airplane propellers and gun stocks. The airplane propeller blades must be exceedingly tough. They revolve so rapidly in action that those on seaplanes by water are sometimes splintered by water dashing against them. Properly seasoned walnut gun stocks will not warp away from the metal parts of the gun. Mahogany is the only substitute for black walnut; but leaving its high cost out of consideration, it must be imported from foreign countries and our ships nowadays are too precious to be spared for such commerce if we can obtain suitable wood at home.

"The war has brought the first great demand for black walnut that there has been for twenty-five years. Each airplane must have not one or two, but four or five, propellers, the extra ones to be on hand in case of breakage. It takes one hundred board feet of walnut to make a single propeller. It is the only supply needed for gun stocks by millions and millions, and it is easy to plant black walnut trees. The extension program calls for sixty million feet of black walnut lumber each year."—Robert F. Wilson in St. Nicholas.

Good Place to Leave

A Washington man on a recent visit to a beautiful section of southwestern state was riding along the banks of the river that waters that section, and although he had gone some twenty miles or so he was not in all that distance noticed a single fisherman. Meeting a man lounging on the bank, he asked:

"Why doesn't some one fish in this river?"

"Ain't no fish," was the laconic response of the native.

"No fish in such a beautiful river as this!" exclaimed the astonished Washingtonian.

The native lazily shifted his position and answered:

"Stranger, if you could get out this country and see a fish can, do you reckon you'd be here?"

"Drums Afar"

John Murray Gibbon Publishes a New Novel in Which a War Romance Is Interwoven

War is the background for most of our thoughts today, and a novel without a war tinge would seem almost out of keeping. "Drums Afar," the new novel by John Murray Gibbon, the war interest is kept subdued all the while, but the story which indeed vibrates with echoes of the great conflict. Canada plays its part in this international romance, the author obtaining some vivid local color from a Patriotic Fund Campaign and from the sailing of the first Canadian Expeditionary Force. Described in a subtitle as an international romance, "Drums Afar" has as its hero a happy-go-lucky young Englishman who after three years of Oxford University with vacations in Germany and France, becomes a director of an illustrated weekly newspaper in London. The charms of an American girl lead him to the United States, where he arrives just on the outbreak of war. All through the pictures of life at Newport, Rhode Island, at Lake Geneva, and at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, the drums of war are heard beating ever louder. On the one hand is the call of the Mother Country; on the other the prospect of luxurious ease in a country of mixed races which at the time of the story is still to be neutral. It is the influence of Canada, however, which brings the hero to a great decision—a decision which first entangles him and then tangles the skeins of love woven into the story. "Drums Afar" is published in London and New York at John Lane, and in Toronto by S. B. Gundy of the Oxford University Press. It is a most tragic event of the most tragic event of the Christian era. But the superstition is older than Christianity. Hesiod says it is unlucky to sow corn on the thirteenth of the first month; and an old Norse legend says that the twelve great divinities were dining at Valhalla when Lord, the god of discord, appeared, and a quarrel with Balder occurred in which Balder, the god of peace, was killed.

"Thirteen" and Other Superstitions

Spilling Salt or Sneezing Said to Be Unlucky

The origin of the prejudice against the number thirteen at table, and indeed of other superstitions, is usually supposed to be the fact that thirteen persons sat down at the Last Supper, after which occurred the most tragic event of the Christian era. But the superstition is older than Christianity. Hesiod says it is unlucky to sow corn on the thirteenth of the first month; and an old Norse legend says that the twelve great divinities were dining at Valhalla when Lord, the god of discord, appeared, and a quarrel with Balder occurred in which Balder, the god of peace, was killed.

Some persons think that it is unlucky to spill salt because Judas Iscariot seems to be spilling it in the picture of the Last Supper. Others think that it is because salt is a symbol of incorruptibility, and spilling it is therefore a sign of broken friendships and general upsets.

There are some curious and very widespread customs of a superstitious nature about sneezing. People sometimes say "God bless you!" to the sneezer. In similar circumstances the Romans used to ask for "Jupiter preserve you!" The Greeks did the same, and the custom was ancient even as late as Aristotle, who endeavors to account for the custom in his problems; but he evidently knew nothing of its origin.

When a man sneezes, the bystanders cry out, "Live!" and the sneezer replies, "With you." The Zulus think that sneezing is a sign that good spirits are with other people believe that it means that evil spirits are being expelled.

Measures Against Desertion

Desertion from the military and naval forces is evidently rampant in Germany, judging by a communique on the subject in the latest papers. The hints that desertions from the colors and escapes of enemy prisoners are being facilitated by civilians, who do not shrink from helping men to flee the country if only there is money to be earned. Help is said to be rendered by luncheon deserters, prisoners with clothes, cash, "safe conducts" to the frontier, and in other ways. The communique reminds Germans that "the smuggling of human beings" is tantamount to treason and will be ruthlessly dealt with.

As an instance of how science and industry have co-operated in helping to win the war, it is interesting to note that Sir Thomas White, K.C.M.G., Minister of Finance, has made a special "His Master's Voice" Record for the purpose of actually informing the Canadian Public in his own voice concerning the need of the second Victory Loan.

Science has thus made it possible for the voice of the Finance Minister to be heard in thousands of places in every part of the Country at the same time.
